Dear Marist Friends

The second assembly of the Australian Church's Fifth Plenary Council was held in July 2022. Eight priority areas had been identified through a lengthy and detailed discernment process that began four years ago. The discussions about each of these areas invariably focussed on formation opportunities of one kind or another. Time and time again formation was identified as a key strategy for effectively addressing these key areas.

Over the past thirty years the Marists of Champagnat have devoted significant attention to faith formation opportunities for staff, students and Association Members. It is no exaggeration to say that the Marists have a fine reputation in the scope and quality of their formation offerings. I am therefore delighted and proud to present the programme of faith formation for 2023.

This year's theme is Created and Called. It is truly elemental. In Christian anthropology this is the way human life is interpreted. We are all the blessed creation of a personal God, who calls us to follow in the way of Jesus Christ. If people accepted the creative action of God then they would also accept the unity of all creation. And in so doing, we would discover anew that we are called "to be at the heart of a network of life made up of millions of species lovingly joined together for us by our Creator. Now is the time to rediscover our vocation as children of God, brothers and sisters, and stewards of creation". (Pope Francis)

I hope you will personally benefit from the 2023 Marist Formation programme.

Br Peter Carroll FMS Provincial and Leader of the Marist Association of St Marcellin Champagnat

a revolution of love and tenderness

Created + Called a revolution of love and tenderness

"Be who God created you to be and you will set the world on fire."

These words from St Catherine of Siena express a desire to be our deepest and truest selves in response to being known and loved by a God who, as Herbert McCabe OP says beautifully, is "helplessly and hopelessly in love with us". God's love changes us. It ignites the flame of desire in our hearts to be God's love in the world. It ignites a revolution, a revolution fuelled by God's love!

So, what might this revolution look like? When the prophet Micah was faced with the stirrings of revolution in the air because of the mistreatment of the lowly and oppression of the poor, God gave a clear message of what to do. "What does the Lord require of you? Do justice, love tenderness, and walk humbly with your God?" (Micah 6:8) Only this. These are perhaps unexpected qualities to associate with revolution.

In Evangelii Gaudium (EG), another unexpected figure is presented by Pope Francis. He encourages believers to look to Mary so we can "believe once again in the revolutionary nature of love and tenderness" (EG, 288). In Mary, we see the qualities of humility, tenderness and concern for others are not virtues of the weak but of the strong. This is captured powerfully in Mary's song of praise, the Magnificat (Lk 1:46-55), where she has literally been ignited by the divine fire of God's love. In response to living her true identity, Mary is created and called to 'magnify' the Lord with her whole being, and this ignites a transformation in others. Her prayer speaks of a revolution that "brings down the mighty from their thrones" and "raises the lowly", through bringing forth the "loving tenderness of the heart of our God" (Lk 1:78) and the birth of a new world (EG, 288).

At times though, we might feel that we don't really understand who God has created us to be, or it feels we are far from setting the world on fire. Artists like Michelangelo offer us consolation. He believed the sculptor was a tool of God, not creating but simply revealing the powerful figures already there. He once said, "I saw the angel in the marble and carved until I set it free". Let us trust that we are already created as God desires us to be. In fact, trust that, as St Catherine joyously declared, God is "pazzo d'amor" for us – literally, 'crazy in love' with us. Let us not be afraid to do something great with our lives and our love.

During the Nazi holocaust, the young 13-year-old Anne Frank wrote in her diary about the power of justice, tenderness and walking humbly with her God, saying: "The sharpest weapon of all is a kind and gentle spirit". She also said: "How wonderful it is that nobody need wait a single moment before starting to improve the world." Today, the revolution of love and tenderness starts with you and me.

Let us pray that we may all be living signs of the Father's tenderness and love (Water From the Rock, 102) as we set the world on fire with God's love.

THE 2023 MARIAN Lecture

A Revolution of Love and Tenderness

A conversation with Dr Medi Volpe Assistant Professor of Theology and Ethics in the Department of Theology and Religion at Durham University.

The Marian Lecture takes up the theme of generating a revolution of love and tenderness as we seek to discover our personal vocation and the call to create. Dr Medi will draw on her deep understanding of the Christian tradition, motherhood, spirituality and the human person to explore what it means to bring Christ life into the world.

Dr Medi Volpe

Dr Volpe is currently Assistant Professor of Theology and Ethics at Durham University. She is also Director of Research at Wesley House, a theological college affiliated with the University of Cambridge and has edited or co-edited over fifteen books and articles. Dr Volpe's research interests in ecclesiology and ethics intersect with her work on Christian formation, intellectual disability and Christian imagination. She understands ongoing theological education as an aspect of Christian formation, not separate from but integral to one's vocational and spiritual journey.

Created and Called a revolution of tenderness

The national Marist Staff Spirituality program for 2023 (4-hour program)

"Be who God created you to be and you will set the world on fire." These words from St Catherine of Siena express a desire to be our deepest and truest selves in response to being known and loved by God. This transforms us and ignites the flame of desire in our hearts to be God's love in the world. It ignites a revolution, a revolution fuelled by God's love!

So, what might this revolution look like? In Evangelii Gaudium, Pope Francis encourages us to look to Mary so we can "believe once again in the revolutionary nature of love and tenderness" (EG, 288). In Mary, we see the qualities of humility, tenderness and concern for others are not virtues of the weak but of the strong. In the Magnificat (Lk 1:46-55), Mary is created and called to 'magnify' the Lord with her whole being, and this ignites a transformation in others. Her prayer speaks of a revolution that "brings down the mighty from their thrones" and "raises the lowly", through bringing forth the "loving tenderness of the heart of our God" (Lk 1:78) and the birth of a new world (EG, 288).

The aims of the program are to:

- explore how Mary's Magnificat offers us a blueprint for our Marian approach to evangelisation
- grow in awareness of our own vocational call to create a revolution of love and tenderness
- examine the emerging questions that arise from the current context of Catholic education
- draw upon contemporary case studies to enliven our response to the challenge of doing justice, loving tenderly, and walking humbly with God
- · facilitate contemplative reflection to allow our minds and hearts to be opened
- · discern ways to magnify Christ's life in our words and actions

The Australian Conference of the Marist Association acts in the name of the Church in four broad areas of ministry.

Marist Schools Australia

... is a family of 56 schools which draw on Marist spirituality and Marist educational practice to help them to shape their identity and mission as Catholic schools. Of these schools, 13 are solely governed by the Association and the rest are conducted in various partnership arrangements with dioceses and parishes. MSA schools, which help to educate over 40,000 young Australians, are grouped into three geographical Regions. Each Region is led by a Director who is advised by an MSA Regional Council

Marist Youth Ministry

... is a ministry aimed at young people aged between 12 and 25. MYM supports schoolbased and young adult programs. The principal school involvement is through the six-year Christian leadership program known as Game Changers. A suite of postschool opportunities include prayer and worship, service and solidarity, forums and festivals, together with a range of local and international volunteering opportunities. MYM operates in all MSA regions, with Regional Coordinators and a number of part-time MYM assistants and volunteers

Marist 180

... is the social welfare arm of the Association. Marist180 has a range of programs and services that connect with and support young people and families in most critical need. It is headquartered in Western Sydney with a presence in Orange, Newcastle, Canberra and Brisbane. Marist180 provides skills training and services for Aboriginal engagement, homelessness, family preservation and refugee settlement. They also provide Intensive Therapeutic Care for young people living in Marist180 out-of-home care.

Australian Marist Solidarity

is the Association's agency for aid and development work through Asia and the Pacific Islands. Australian Marist Solidarity, a registered NGO, works with the people in this region through projects that empower local communities to take their own path to development, with an emphasis on redressing poverty through the provision of education. It also offers educational and support services for MSA schools involved in solidarity and immersion projects, and is the base for Marist Volunteers Australia.

These ministries are currently supported by a number of Association-level teams and services: the MSA Leadership Team, the Mission and Life Formation Team, the Coordinator of Membership, the Business Services Office, the Professional Standards Office, Marist Music, and The Hermitage at Mittagong – the national Marist retreat and conference centre.
